Ecological Farmers of Ontario Conference 2018

Trade Show & Sponsorship

December 4 - 6, 2018 at Four Points by Sheraton Hotel, London, Ontario

Welcome from the Ecological Farmers Association of Ontario (EFAO)

EFAO is pleased to announce that the 5th Annual Ecological Farmers of Ontario Conference will take place from December 4th to 6th at the Four Points by Sheraton Hotel in London, Ontario. This year's conference is presented in partnership with the Eastern Canadian Organic Seed Growers Network, the National Farmers Union Ontario, the Bauta Family Initiative on Canadian Seed Security, the Local Food and Farm Co-ops network, and the Organic Council of Ontario.

EFAO supports farmers to build resilient farms and communities through education, farmer-led research and farmer-to-farmer knowledge sharing. At the conference, we will welcome more than 300 farmers to take part in 30 + cutting edge workshops on horticulture, livestock, field crops, seed saving, soil health, marketing and much more. A two-day tradeshow, as well as local farm tours and social events, offer many opportunities to network and socialize.

This year's conference promises to be the largest yet, as we join forces with the 4th biennial Eastern Canadian Organic Seed Growers Network (ECOSGN) Conference. ECOSGN is a group of seed producers that has been supporting seed training in Eastern Canada for over a decade. We're so excited to have an entire conference stream dedicated to seed production!

Our theme - "Regeneration: Seeds, Soil and Community Connection" - will address the many questions growers have been discussing over the last year, How do we regenerate soils on farms? How can farms effectively incorporate seed production? How can we work together to make our rural communities more connected, diverse and resilient?

Special guests for this year's conference include Rowen White from Sierra Seeds in California, Carmen Black CSA farmer and researcher from Iowa, orchard and soil educator and farmer Michael Phillips, and many others from here in Ontario and farther afield.

We are looking for businesses and organizations like yours to sponsor his year's conference. This is a unique and valuable opportunity to connect with your target market of clients and customers. On page 2, you'll find a description of the five sponsorship categories and they can showcase your business or organization to conference participants.

on the conference Trade Show, which offers another fantastic way to connect with farmers. At the Sheraton our Trade Show is centrally located in a thoroughfare between workshop rooms, making this an ideal space for exhibitors. In addition to the bustling conference breaks and meal times, we will be holding a reception in the Trade Show on Wednesday evening, with local and organic food and drink as well as many opportunities for networking and connection. The venue hosts a maximum of 30 Trade Show booths, so be sure to book early in order to save your spot!

To register as a Sponsor and/or a Trade Show Exhibitor, visit conference.efao.ca, or complete the mail-in registration form on page 5.

Sponsors and Exhibitors make this whole thing possible. We are excited to see how your products and your work will enliven and catalyze meaningful connections and conversations!

With appreciation,

Alexand, 5

What conference participants had to say:

"The EFAO conference provides a great opportunity for new and established farmers to learn new things from both local and external experts, to network with fellow farmers, and to be inspired and rejuvenated to continue the good work of ecological farming!"

"There were so many people whose stories I just wanted to sit down and listen to; and an effusion of openness to learning that was, quite frankly, refreshing."
